CORE RESPONSIBILITIES OF A DEN CHIEF: As Den Chief, you will have the exciting opportunity to develop leadership and build a good reputation for your Scout Troop. In working with your Cub Scouts, you will prepare to become Scouts BSA Scouters one day.

- Meet with your Den Leaders to plan your part of the program for the den meetings. These meetings are held regularly (at least once a month).
- Help lead the weekly den meeting. You should arrive on time in your uniform.
- Share responsibility with the leaders of the den in all den activities. You should look to them for adult leadership and inspiration.
- Assist with assigned den activities at the monthly pack meetings. Recognize the denner (if applicable) as your right-hand helper by giving him or her opportunities to serve.
- Take part in all training opportunities so that you may become a better leader.
- Maintain proactive communication with both your host Den Leader and your home Scoutmaster.
- Meet no less than quarterly with host Den Leader to discuss areas of strength and continued areas of growth opportunities

3. REQUIRED APPROVALS & SIGN-OFFS

The Den Leader, Cubmaster, and Committee Chair will work with the Den Chief to establish expectations around percentage of den meetings and/or pack activities Den Chief will support in his/her role throughout the year of service in order to fulfill the service credit requirements.

Den Chief Pledge: I promise to help the scouts in my den to the best of my ability, to encourage, guide, and protect them in all den and pack activities, and show them by my example what Scouting America stands for.

I will strive to be prompt and dependable, and to cooperate with the leaders in carrying out the den program.

As each member of my den becomes eligible to move along the Cub Scouting trail (completing the Lion, Tiger Cub, Wolf, Bear, or Webelos, or the Arrow of Light ranks), I will encourage them and do all in my power to interest them in someday becoming a member of Scouts BSA.
